Military Firefighters to Be Honored at National Fallen Firefighters Memorial

The National Fallen Firefighters Foundation announced today that military firefighters who die while performing firefighting duties will be honored at the National Fallen Firefighters Memorial located here on the campus of the National Emergency Training Center.

Board Chairman Denny Compton stated, "It was an oversight that the military firefighters were not included from the very beginning, and the Foundation's Board of Directors feels strongly that it is time to correct this situation. Those military personnel whose primary positions are firefighters should be honored if they die in the line of duty while fighting a fire."
